

Invitation To Artists

Come with me to the Casbah!.....If you're not doing anything much between June 27th and 30<sup>t</sup> 2010, how about joining me at the first International Fair of Contemporary Art in Taza, Morocco?

This is the only Art Fair of this caliber I have ever attended that is offering free exhibition space and hotel accommodation for 3 days, as well as the possibility of selling our art on an auction at the end. Booths are also offered to USA art material manufacturers looking at exporting their products. This special offer comes with the compliments of the Moroccan Association Golden Triangle of Art and the Morocco Tourist Board to promote world-wide awareness of art and friendship. Check out their website: <http://www.fiact.c.la/>

The organizer, Elmadani Belmadani is currently liaising with hotels and tour operators on costs for extended stay and available tours from Taza to Casablanca, Fes and other destinations of interest. Details will be entered on the FIACT website as soon as available .

Let's show the world the diversity and color of American Art, while we explore and enjoy theirs in one of the most beautiful and romantic settings to stir your creativity, Morocco.

If you wish to apply you will need to submit 3 digital photos (@600 pixels) stating the medium used, the year it was painted and dimensions of each piece. These are not necessarily the paintings you will be exhibiting at the Fair (limited to 3 originals), just samples of your work. You will also need your biography, a list of shows you have participated in and any art awards you have won. Also attach a head and shoulder photo of yourself.

I have personally visited Morocco twice and love it, as I'm sure you will too. If anyone wants to pair up and travel with my husband and I, keep in touch.
